

CE eligible

You are invited to a presentation on

THE NEW MANAGEMENT IMPERATIVE

The development and implementation of effective veterinary risk management strategies with Douglas C. Jack, B.A., LL.B.

The Risks of Clients

- a review of the current state of the law defining animals as “property”
- the legal elements of claims for negligence, the evolution of laws relating to damages, and simple techniques to employ in a clinical setting to reduce and avoid claims

The Risks of Employees

- the difference between employees and independent contracts, the content of employment contracts, wrongful dismissal, and employment standards legislation

The Risks of Society

- the relationship between codes of veterinary ethics and the legal consequences for the breach thereof, including discussion on confidentiality, alternative and complementary therapies, and the anatomy of disciplinary proceedings

Thursday, November 17, 2016

6:30–9 pm, AVC Lecture Theatre A

Admission is free. Please pre-register here by Monday, November 14.

